

SEMI-WEEKLY INTERIOR JOURNAL.

STANFORD, KY., FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1900. 9 A. M.

NO. 66

LIVINGSTON.

Mrs. J. J. Clancy has taken charge of the Walton Hotel.

The millinery opening of Ashlock & Blumhart was largely attended. Mrs. R. has just returned from the city with a large and fine assortment of goods.

The Ladies of the Macedonia will give a box supper on the night of the 23rd. Everybody invited to come and bring a box, which the ladies will gladly accept.

W. D. Newland and wife, of Crab Orchard, have been visiting J. C. Rinehart and family. Sam Mason and wife have returned from Richmond, where they have been on a visit to home folks.

Mrs. D. S. McKelney and children have returned from a visit to Stanford. Miss Mollie Brown, of Kingsville, is visiting Mrs. D. S. McKelney. Mrs. Jerome Adams is quite sick of typhoid fever. Robert Burns has just returned from a visit to relatives in Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Wade have moved to his property, which he lately purchased of John Mullins. Mrs. Dave Griffin and children are visiting her sister, Mrs. Sara Owens, in Lebanon Junction. Miss Luna Herrin is visiting her sister at Brodhead.

MATRIMONIAL.

John Rayburn, a widower of 68, was married at Danport, Mich., to Miss Cora Sowers, 16.

Although married but seven years Mrs. H. M. Smith, of Marine Home, Minn., is the mother of 14 children.

John M. Holmes and Miss Lula M. Borge were married at the court-house yesterday by Judge James P. Bailey.

Miss Mary Etna, the lovely daughter of Mr. A. C. Carman, of this county, and A. J. Rice were married Wednesday at Harrodsburg. Miss Nellie Murphy accompanied them. The groom is a son of Mrs. S. E. Rice and a fine young man.

Hon. Charles Chauncey Bagby and Miss Alberta Susan Newlin will be married Wednesday morning, Oct. 24th, at 11 o'clock, at Trinity Episcopal church. No cards. This news will be received with unbounded pleasure by the friends of both Mr. Bagby and the splendid young woman who is to be his bride.—Danville Advocate.

KINGSVILLE.

Mrs. Stella McCarty is back from Cincinnati with an elegant line of millinery. Miss Gertrude Pennybaker is visiting relatives in Louisville. Mrs. W. R. Condit continues ill, but is a little better at this writing. Her mother, Mrs. J. A. Wright, is with her. Arnold Bargum, traveling passenger agent for the Union Pacific, has been here for several days on business. Mr. Collette and family have removed to Dry Ridge, their former home. Miss Elsie Webb, of Harrodsburg, is the guest of relatives here.

For appetite, sweetness and lusciousness there is nothing so good as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Try it. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Druggists.

CRAB ORCHARD.

The health of this community is better now than it has been for the past few months.

The children of Miss Kate Hays' school have quite a nice chestnut hut a few days ago.

The furniture from Green Briar Springs is being hauled to the Ramsey store-room, where it will later be sold at auction.

Politics is waxing warm in Crab Orchard and as usual both sides are sure of victory. I judge from the drunken men seen at large.

The people in Crab Orchard are either very kind to widows and they all move here or the climate is fatal to the men and they die and leave widows here. There are now 32 widows in the town, all doing well.

Miss Ora Wilmore, of Nicholasville, and Mrs. George Bohon, of Harrodsburg, visited Mrs. F. W. Dillon Saturday and Sunday. Miss Lockie Dillon is visiting her sister, Mrs. Jas. Pugh, at Pittsburg. Sam Scott, of Somerset, is making frequent trips to Crab Orchard to see a pretty widow. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Minery, of St. Louis, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brooks. Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Pettus have gone to Louisville to visit their daughter and attend the grand lodge of Masons. Will Brooks is at home for the election. Miss Maud Carter is a guest at Charles Redd, Jr.'s. Miss Lizzie Beasley has returned from a summer's visit to Oklahoma City and Kansas.

QUEEN & CRESCENT — ROUTE —

THE LAST GREAT SUMMER EXCURSION.

FRIDAY, OCT. 20TH.

These tickets are good on this train only, returning good until regular train leaving Cincinnati 8 P. M. Sunday, Oct. 28th, which will stop at all points between Harrison Junction and Georgetown for returning excursionists. It's the last chance for a low rate this season. The attractions at Cincinnati include the Zoological Gardens (new importation of animals just received from Hagenback's famous collection), Fort Thomas, one of the finest military posts in the United States (now occupied by the 2nd Infantry), Eden Park, now in beautiful autumn dress; the art museum, hilltops, etc., etc. Ask ticket agents for further particulars.

WESTERN RATES REDUCED.—Greatly reduced one-way and round-trip second-class rates will be in effect from Chicago via Wisconsin Central Railroad, to points in Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia each Tuesday during October and November. For detailed information inquire of nearest ticket agent, or address James C. Pond, Gen'l. Pass. Agt., Milwaukee, Wis.

A FRIGHTFUL DECEASED.—What a horrible case! A man, aged 40, died of a heart attack. He was a well-known man in the community. His death was a great loss to his family and friends.

GOV. BRADLEY ON IMPERIALISM.

Col. Bryan himself can not make a better speech against the Philippine policy of the administration than this delivered by Gov. Bradley at the Lexington Chautauqua in July, 1898. Call his attention to it at Danville if he tries now to approve and endorse McKinley's indefensible course.

We should like to publish it in full, did our space permit it, but to some of its utterances, we find so much true democracy that we must quote them.

Among other things Gov. Bradley says: "We should not, in the midst of our triumphs, however significant, become complacent with the glamor of conquest or an insatiable desire for the acquisition of territory. Monarchies and empires rise and fall and will engage in war to bring other countries into subjugation, in order to fill their coffers and add to their territory. These are but the natural outgrowth of their antecedents and teachings. A republic, founded on the bedrock of liberty, with the declaration that 'all men are born free and equal,' and that 'governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed,' can not engage in the conquest of other lands."

"The acquisition of foreign territory means the formation of standing armies in every country so acquired, and the building of a navy that will hold them in subjugation. It means taxation, a strongly centralized government and the opportunity, yea, the probability of measuring arms with the combined nations of the world. It means troublesome entanglements and complications. In short, it means turning of a peace-loving people, who should be satisfied with their immense power and possessions, into an aggressive and war-waging people."

"All this talk about 'manifest destiny,' while it may be pleasing to the ear of aggrandizement, and the demon of avarice, is the same that inspired the rulers of the Roman Empire, and that has marked the history of Spain. One of these countries has sunk into oblivion—its magnificent temples inhabited by bats and owls; the other step by step, has grown weaker, until, although once the mightiest in the world, it is now struggling to save the small remnant that remains. Sooner or later this must be the fate of all nations that live by the sword. The acquisition of one piece of territory begets a desire for another, and in the end, an effort to take by force that which justly belongs to others, will lead to the loss of all we have."

During its existence this government has opposed the extension of foreign territory in this hemisphere. Time and again that doctrine has been enforced. And while we have so long applied and practiced this doctrine, it appears glaringly inconsistent that we should now insist on acquiring territory abroad.

We would not be unlike the father who punished his son for gambling and then sat down and played his hand out. Let each one of us today, under this flag, take anew the oath of loyalty to our country as it is and as it should be. Let there be contentment with what we have, rather than a desire to obtain what we have not.

Let each one of us cultivate the soil on which springs the tree of liberty, with blood and tears if need be, but always with patriotic industry, until its generous branches may extend so that the oppressed of every land may rest beneath its shade and feel and know that 'the stars shall float over their heads.' Let our flag be respected in every land, on every sea. Let the busy marts of trade and commerce swarm with liberty-loving people who know that

"Peace has no victories, No less renowned than war."

"Let us remember the patriotic words of the father of our country as they come echoing down the corridors of time and not forget that this is a republic of the people, for the people and by the people, courting no strife, but avoiding no conflict when honor is assailed, and America will continue to grow in power and wealth, in influence and grandeur until from the great height it has won, her people may look down upon the other nations of the world, free from their strife, free from their entanglements—not the American Empire—but still the American republic."

When Gov. Bradley spoke these words on that beautiful July day, his voice was that of a patriot and a lover of true liberty; when he made his speech at Louisville his voice was that of the politician and the partisan. Of which kind will be the voice of Gov. Roosevelt today? This is the paramount issue.

ROBBED THE GRAVE.—A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately a friend advised trying 'Electric Bitters' and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life and robbed the grave of another victim. No one should fail to try them. Only 50c. guaranteed at Vandy's Drug Store."

What most people want is something mild and gentle, when in need of a physic. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets fill the bill to a dot. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. For sale by Craig & Hocker, Druggists.

MT. VERNON.

S. W. Prewitt has opened a butcher shop.

Alex Hiltner, living on Brush Creek, lost his house by fire. Nothing saved. Neal Parrett has erected a large dwelling for Sheriff Catron near Level Green.

Linemen will begin stringing wires on the White and Orlando lines from this place Monday.

A son of J. Haasel was badly injured Saturday afternoon while attempting to board a moving freight train.

The various telephone companies belonging to the K. T. A., have issued a joint directory of 41 pages, which has proven quite a convenience to patrons. W. S. Cummins, the Livingston merchant and lumberman, has purchased a half interest in the London Manufacturing Co's plant and has taken charge as manager.

Our people are much gratified on account of the many conveniences afforded by the bank of Mt. Vernon recently established with S. H. Martie president and W. L. Richards cashier.

The game of ball between Pico Hill and Mt. Vernon Saturday last, resulted in defeat for the latter. A return game will be played here tomorrow, when some pretty playing is promised.

J. A. Parrett, a fine old gentleman of Jackson county, was over to see his son, Neal Parrett. L. S. Adams has returned to Grays. Miss Ida May Adams is visiting at Corbin. Grays and other points in Southeastern Kentucky.

Mrs. Rome Adams, of Livingston, is seriously ill. The collegiate institute is progressing nicely. W. H. Pettus is at the depot while the agent is absent. Alfred Bryant has bought Miss Mary Peace's interest in the store of Bryant & Co. Brakeman E. B. Brown was here Wednesday. Mrs. C. Brown's millinery stock is nicely located in the brick hotel.

The advocates of turnpikes have things in their hands if they will but push it. It is necessary to inform the voters on the subject and have them vote. It is a good thing but it requires pushing. The writer suggests that a meeting be held for the purpose of organizing and going to the work in a business like way by appointing committees for the various precincts whose duties will be to explain the proposition and bring out the vote. No one who is for the interest and upbuilding of the county can conscientiously cast his ballot against this move for the betterment of Rockcastle.

John H. Williams, who is book keeper for a large packing establishment, East St. Louis, is here visiting the family of his father, D. N. Williams. Dr. Scott, of Somerset, and Miss Katie James, of Crab Orchard, were married in the parlor of the Miller Hotel here Monday morning. Legislator B. J. Flethrum came in from Frankfort Sunday. J. N. Brown, James Landrum, Willis Griffin and U. G. Baker attended the Masonic grand lodge, meeting, Louisville. Wm. Nicely has returned from a trip to Knoxville, Millard West was here Tuesday from Lancaster. It is now Papa Charlie Davis. It's a girl. Will Kruger has returned after a six months' sojourn at Hyde, where he superintended the construction of the court-house and other buildings. Fritz Krueger is in Manchester. Mrs. May Rider was here from Upon on a visit to relatives. Judge R. G. Williams was in here, Richmond and Louisville this week.

"There are no trusts."—Mark Hanna.

"The democratic party is responsible for the trusts."—Secretary Lyman J. Gage.

"The republican party alone is competent to handle the trust question. Eight-tenths of the business of this country is done by corporations. Any legislation against corporations would throw eight-tenths of the skilled labor out of employment."—Senator Chauncey M. Depew.

The republican party has evidently "huddled" the trusts in a most efficient and satisfactory manner during the past few weeks, as is evidenced by the corruption fund which Mark Hanna succeeded in raising. As a "handler" Mr. Hanna must be awarded the gold medal. His success in "handling" is considered the best evidence of the truth of Gov. Roosevelt's assertion that "good trusts are good things," and the trusts have been real good things for the republican party.

Gov. Joseph D. Sayers, of Texas, said in New York: "The horror of Galveston has been in no way overestimated. The most conservative now put the loss of life at 6,000, and the estimates run all the way from this minimum to a maximum of 12,000. The truth will never be known, for beyond question hundreds were swept away and their bodies sank. The property loss is in the millions—in the tens of millions. Indeed, a great part of the city was destroyed, and it was all damaged."

THAT THROBBING HEADACHE.—Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches. They make pure blood and strong nerves and build up your health. Easy to take. Try them. Only 25c. money back if not cured. Sold at Penny's Drug Store.

POLITICAL.

There are 33 democratic clubs in Louisville, and all of them have a large membership. They are composed of workers for democratic success. After finding it could do nothing, the House voted to adjourn, but the Senate practically killed the resolution by referring it to the committee on suffrage and elections.

Hon. William L. Wilson, president of Washington and Lee University, former postmaster general and once a democratic leader in Congress, died suddenly at Lexington, Va.

Attorney General Breckinridge filed in the court of appeals a motion for the removal from office of County Clerk Claude Clinton, of Fayette, whose accounts were several thousands of dollars short.

Harrel, the recalcitrant democrat, was skinned to a turn at the Senate Wednesday by Senator Geo. T. Farris. It being shown that Harrel's attitude toward elective legislation was for the sole purpose of getting his revenge on Gov. Beckham.

J. Dummitt, of Middlesboro, convicted of having prevented a number of Negro voters from exercising the elective franchise by paying them $5 apiece at the last November election, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $1,000.

Investment companies are being squeezed for republican campaign funds under threats of the issue of fraud orders against them by the post-office department. They are urged to pay $150 to $200 each in consideration of the fact that such orders are held up.

Somebody exploded a bomb while John D. White was speaking at Richmond, but he only paused to remark that such was an evidence of the lawless spirit and intolerance abroad in Kentucky that leads to assassination and massacres under the guise of civil liberty.

An immense crowd, estimated at 7,000, was at Kuttawa to hear Gov. Beckham and Ex-Gov. McCreary speak. The crowd was wildly enthusiastic and a parade a mile long preceded the speaking. At night they spoke to an enthusiastic crowd of more than 1,000 people at Princeton.

Senator John Sherman, ex-secretary of State, is dangerously ill at Washington. The attack has taken the form of a general collapse, in part due to the general debility incident to old age and the effects of the illness which he suffered while on a trip to the West Indies two years ago. His relatives have been summoned. He never fully recovered from that illness.

What strange bed fellows politics do make, even stranger than necessity? Milton Justitia Durham and William Chemically Pure Breckinridge on the same platform? Shades of 1890 return and tell us who was sincere. Who then represented the unsupervised order of "Civil Liberty"? Echo answers, "Who?"—Lexington Democrat.

At Falmouth Gov. McCreary roared Roagh Rider Roosevelt to a turn for saying in his speech at Louisville that the democratic candidate for president came to Kentucky for the purpose of endorsing fraud and to champion the cause of the party which had seated a man as governor who had been illegally elected, and declared that no candidate for vice president of any party has ever been guilty of such conduct and discourtesy to a candidate for president.

The remarkable demonstration at Bryan at New York means something. Next to that given Dewey, when he was the hero of the hour, it was the largest in numbers and the most extraordinary over given a private citizen. Four years ago, when he went to New York it was the "enemy's country." It is no longer so, but the home of his most enthusiastic friends. Thousands upon thousands pushed and jammed to hear him, and at the sight of him women waved their bouquets, the men their hats and cheered until they were exhausted. The scene was most inspiring and the enthusiasm at white heat.

When Judge James D. Black was in Lexington Wednesday the Leader in a fake interview with him said: "Judge Black does not approve of the tactics adopted by Senator Blackburn and Jas. Andrew Scott in attacking Mr. Yerkes and said this morning that a gentleman of the high character that Mr. Yerkes possesses could stand such attacks from Blackburn and Scott, but the utterances were doing great harm to the democratic party and unless a halt was called upon these gentlemen it would be useless to continue the campaign, where daily many of the best citizens of Kentucky were deserting the democrats because of such uncalculated abuses." His attention being called to the matter, Judge Black announced in the most unequivocal manner that he never expressed and did not entertain such sentiments. In other words the Leader had manufactured a lie out of whole cloth.

John Seary, treasurer of the Galveston relief fund, acknowledges receipt of a total of $1,076,399.18 for the sufferers.

ROYAL Baking Powder Absolutely Pure

Makes hot breakfast-breads wholesome—no yeast germs, no alum. Makes cake, biscuit and pastry of superior fineness, flavor and delicacy. Makes food that will keep moist and sweet. Is most economical, because it is the purest and greatest in leavening strength. In the easy, expeditious preparation of the finer cakes and pastries, Royal is indispensable.

Care must be taken to avoid baking powders made from alum. Such powders are sold cheap, because they cost but a few cents per pound. Not only will they spoil the cake, but alum is a corrosive acid, which taken in food means injury to health.

CHANGE OF OWNERS.

E. C. Walton Becomes Editor and Proprietor.

With this issue of the INTERIOR JOURNAL my proprietary interest ceases, having sold it, good will, accounts and everything to my brother, Mr. E. C. Walton, who has been my faithful and indefatigable assistant for 10 years. He is too well and favorably known to our patrons to need any commendation. He has been the life of the paper and contributed to its material interest as no other man could. Under his direction it will continue to be right-up-to-date in news and comment and more than maintain the paper's reputation in every respect. Give him your patronage, assistance and indulgence and I guarantee it will be to your own advantage. He will need all the money that is due and in this connection I would impress upon all who owe the importance of paying without putting him to trouble and them to expense.

To those who have stood by me through evil and through good report for nearly 26 years and have encouraged and sustained me, I am profoundly grateful as well as to all who have patronized me. My personal interest in them and the paper, to which I have given the best years of my life, will never cease. I love the people of this town and section and they will always have a warm place in my heart, while the INTERIOR JOURNAL will ever be regarded with the affection of a father for his offspring. W. P. WALTON.

HARD indeed must be the heart that is not moved to pity by the case of Henry Youtsey! All who have ever felt the yearning solicitude of parenthood must be stirred with deep emotion when they think of his aged father, and the young wife, faithful to her marriage vows, supporting him in the day of his adversity, furnished cause for tears. The young man himself, notwithstanding his horrible deed, is also worthy of pity. Of good parentage and presumably well reared, it is hard to believe that, uninfluenced, he would have committed this crime. His is evidently a plastic nature and he has met the fate of Poor Dog Tray. Unfortunately for him he was thrown with villains of the deepest dye. The killing of Goebel afforded Powers, Finley and Howard the same pleasure that comes to the hunter after a successful raid of the jungle, and the fear of punishment is the only thing that has ever warred their happiness. Hardened and with seared consciences, if they have any at all, the two who have been tried, with the composition of innocence itself, and perjured themselves with graceful ease. But with poor Youtsey it is different. The lashings of a guilty conscience and the nightly visitations of the murdered man's ghost have well nigh undone him. The sight of the man to whom he has told the whole truth throws him into paroxysms and the ravings that follow show the familiarity of the Bard of Avon with human nature. How suggestive of Lady Macbeth are his exclamations about the blood on his hands!

But while pity is commendable we can not be controlled by it in the affairs of life. Duty takes precedence. It is provided in Holy Writ that "who sheds man's blood by man shall his blood be shed" and that provision has been copied in all the codes of civilization, and its enforcement is absolutely essential for the preservation of society.

While Bryan and Roosevelt are held up to the youth of the land as examples of what young men may do by proper effort, they should also be pointed to Youtsey as the end to which the broad road leads. Let them shun evil companions, and remember, above all things, that the end never justifies improper means.

We have here, likewise, food for reflection for older heads. The selection of the officers of government is the most important function that they are ever called upon to discharge, and in a few days that duty will confront them. For years the democratic party has furnished the State officers, and they have conducted its affairs well and given it a fair name abroad. No matter how successful have been the sons who have wandered away, their greatest pride has been that they are Kentuckians. For a short period those in charge were republicans, and the distinguishing feature of their administration, as shown by the Youtsey trial, was the formation of a conspiracy to commit assassination, the conspirators being State officers, including the chief executive himself. The State is now a stench in the nostrils of civilization, and every Kentuckian, whether at home or abroad, hangs his head in shame.

Choose ye this day whom you will have to serve you, and if you love your State and stand for law and order against assassination and all forms of lawlessness, that choice will be the nominee of the democratic party.

"I TOLD you that Youtsey had told me enough to make him of great benefit to the Commonwealth in the prosecution of Taylor." These were the words which were wrung from Attorney R. W. Nelson, one of Henry E. Youtsey's counsel, when he took the witness stand in behalf of his client. No wonder Taylor fled and no wonder he keeps his cowardly carcass under the protection of a perjured governor of another State. Elect Yerkes and he will come tramping home with a pardon in his pocket to be a hero among heroes. Vote for Beckham, which will be a guarantee that assassins and all other criminals will be forced to suffer the punishment meted out to them.

AMONG the myriads of questions being asked, we observe one propounded to Bryan asking if he is in favor of counting the vote of North Carolina, whose constitution, like that of Massachusetts, disfranchises the illiterate voter. This a straw that indicates the brewing of a hurricane. In case of republican defeat, which now seems absolutely certain as any future event can be, the republicans will doubtless undertake to repeat their outrageous conduct of 1876, when the presidency was stolen from Samuel J. Tilden. A civil war was narrowly averted at that time, and under no state of case will the people tolerate a repetition of the most disgraceful episode in our history.

HON. G. G. GILBERT has made the district a most excellent representative in Congress and is eminently deserving of an endorsement by re-election. It would be a calamity, if peradventure, such a man as Dr. Williams should be elected, as he is thoroughly unfitted both by habits and training to fill a seat in Congress. Fortunately little danger of such result is feared, but the still hunt is sometimes the most effective, and it will be well for the democrats to take nothing for granted, but give Mr. Gilbert such a majority as shall put an end to republican aspirations in this district.

It was Senator Hoar, a rock-ribbed republican, who said that perseverance in the administration Philippine policy would "mark the beginning of the downfall of this republic." The remark was made some time ago, but the Senator has not recanted. He spoke the truth and truth is mighty and will prevail. The election of McKinley will show that the people approve of his policy which is sure to result as Senator Hoar predicts. On the other hand the election of Bryan will mean that we are to have a return to established principles and constitutional methods.

THOSE Texans are worrying the republicans terribly over the requisition for the Standard Oil magnates. After Roosevelt declined to act on it, on the ground that he could not legally do so while absent from the State, they went on to Albany and presented the matter to the acting governor, who held that the question involved is so important that he was unwilling to take action, and that the matter must be deferred until the return of the regular governor, which, of course, will not be till after the election.

THE will of J. B. Clayton, an English millionaire, gives to his two daughters a fortune on condition that they attain the age of 35 years without marrying either a Hebrew or a citizen of the United States. If American millionaires in making testamentary provision for their daughters would couple with the deities a condition that they are not to marry any of the broken down aristocracy of Europe, they would contribute more to their welfare and happiness than money possibly can.

THE court of appeals decides against John Henry Wilson in his contention for the judgeship in the London district. It will be remembered that he claimed that it was the proper time to elect a successor to Judge Clark, deceased, and had 90-odd of his friends to vote for him by passing his name on the ballot. We are sorry Mr. Wilson loses out. He is a good man and has made the republicans squirm.

A REPUBLICAN orator commenting on the fact that Bryan had quoted approvingly an utterance of Lincoln made 35 years ago, says that he will agree with McKinley also, 35 years hence. Possibly, but it will require that much time of persistent effort and a great deal of sophistry to cause any one to approve McKinley's views and actions, they are so indefensible, changeable and contradictory.

THE fact that the republican party has no use for the Negro except to vote him received fresh proof in the Youtsey trial. Taylor, their leader, wasn't even willing for one of that race to have the honor of killing Goebel.

The Senate voted down the House resolution to adjourn and all hope of the Legislature making any change in the Goebel law is gone.

THE YOUTSEY TRIAL.

After Arthur Goebel had given his damaging testimony in the Youtsey case and Wharton Golden and W. H. Cullton had added to the strong case against him, the prosecution rested and the defense stated its case, which was a denial of guilt and a promise to prove that Arthur Goebel perjured himself, Nelson, one of Youtsey's counsel, went on the stand to prove it, but was handled so unmercifully on cross-examination by Col. Campbell that he did his client great harm. As a final thrust Campbell asked him "if he, Nelson, did not say in the conversation detailed by Goebel that Youtsey had told enough to hang Taylor." "I refuse to answer that question as a counsel in the case," was his response, thus admitting its truth. Judge Cantrill declined to make him answer.

Mr. Nelson acknowledged having favored an agreement on the part of Youtsey with the prosecution. The defense concluded its case Wednesday with the exception of one witness whom it promised to have in court yesterday. Jim Howard testified that he did not know Youtsey. W. S. Taylor's deposition was not read. C. W. Short, of Pineville, a brother-in-law of Judge Yost, admitted that there was a republican plot to kill off the democrats in the Legislature; William Ayers, also of Pineville, testified that Short told him that Bradley and Yost were to start the trouble by insulting Kohn and Phelps, the attorneys for the democrats before the contest committee, but the scheme failed because the democratic lawyers kept silent.

The jury has been instructed and the lawyers are speaking in the case. A verdict of death is almost certain, unless the jury is moved to compassion by the sight of the helpless creature, who lies apparently unconscious before them.

Frustus Warfield, who attempted to criminally assault Mrs. Renick, in Todd county, was strung up by a mob.

Thomas McDermott, night engineer, was crushed to death in the elevator of the Columbia building, Louisville.

May Thos. F. Lane, Senator Blackburn's son-in-law, committed suicide at Washington in the presence of his little daughter. His health is assigned as the cause.

A detachment of 20 men engaged in repairing telegraph wires in Luzon was surprised by Filipinos, and only seven escaped capture. Three American scouts were killed.

Major Gen. Nelson A. Miles, commander-in-chief of the United States army, and Lt. Col. H. H. Whitney, a member of his staff, are guests of the Louisville Horse Show.

At Fresno, Cal., the Kohler & Frohling Winery, was entirely destroyed by fire. Over 250,000 gallons of port wine were stored in the structure. The actual loss is between $100,000 and $125,000.

The great strike in the anthracite coal region is practically ended, representatives of the Reading and Lehigh Valley Coal Companies having agreed to accede to the demands made by the miners' convention at Scranton.

The prohibitionists of Douglas county, Kansas, nominated a ticket and left their nomination papers with a lawyer to be filed, but he got drunk and remained in that condition until the time for filing had elapsed, consequently they were knocked out in the first round by their ancient enemy.

If anybody had a lingering doubt that Taylor was in the plot to assassinate Mr. Goebel, the confession of Youtsey to Arthur Goebel, which he detailed at the Georgetown trial, will remove it, unless he is of the kind spoken of in Scripture that wouldn't believe though one rose from the dead. No wonder the craven surrounded himself with feudists and partisan soldiers and then skipped to Indiana when he got to the end of his run. Let us hope that he will soon be at the end of his rope.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

A son of Pleasant Hall, residing near Greenwood, who had been missing since Sunday afternoon, was found at the base of a 100-foot cliff Wednesday still alive, but unconscious. It is not known yet whether it was an accident or an attempt at murder.

A rich find of copper ore has been discovered on the farms of George Millon, William Foster, B. B. Millon and S. A. Deatherage, living near Millon Station, Madison county. The matter has been kept secret for some time, but mineral experts have investigated the ore recently and pronounced it genuine. A stock company will be organized to develop the find.

Senator-elect J. W. Bailey, of Texas, will deliver two or three speeches in Kentucky in the interest of the democratic campaign.

Clothing.

We always have the best. Our Fall and Winter Suits for dressy young men not only rival tailor-made goods, but in many instances are superior, for this reason, that they possess the Eastern finish and the popular broad shoulder effect.

We have a big line of Boy's Knee Pant Suits in single and double breasted.

Also a fine line of Vested Suits for Children from 4 to 8.

Boys' Knee Pants only 10c.

THE BIG SHOWING

At The Louisville Store

Last week was a distinguished success. Our house was crowded with appreciative visitors who were profuse in their expressions of pleasure and gratification over the display of new goods. Our array of Fall and Winter merchandise is one of unusual strength, variety and low prices.

Our constant aim in selling is how low can we sell, not how much can we make. The result is that our ever growing business is always in the lead.

A big line of ready-made Wrappers at prices that suit all. Fancy knit Skirts, 50c quality only 39c. Fancy Under Skirts, $1 quality only 68c.

DRY GOODS.

DANVILLE, KY.

Special Sale of Fine Dress Goods.

We have now on sale a special lot of fine all wool dress goods at lower prices than such goods were ever offered anywhere. Some of them are just one third of their value. We recommend these strongly for skirts and for children's clothes.

15c PER YARD.

25c PER YARD.

125 Yards of strictly all-wool, Homespun Plaids in grey and blue mixtures, 36 inches wide, reduced from 50c a yd.

49c PER YARD.

Twenty pieces of assorted Dress Goods which have been selling at $1 to $1.75 per yard. In this lot are genuine Scotch mixture, plain, dark Cheviots, Black plaid Serges and fine all-wool plaids in Tartan and French styles, all 45 to 50 inches wide.

BLACK DRESS GOODS.

We have almost every desirable weave in black goods. Nothing in the lot except all-wool and silk mixed. Prices range from 50c to $3. We are always ready to show goods and prices against any samples you have.

DRESS TRIMMINGS.

We are showing an unusually fine line of new dress trimmings. Chimy and Arabian lace hands and All-overs, Taffetas embroidered in Mefine gold thread, "Panne" velvet and Taffeta applique on gold cloth back and outlined with gold thread. These come in both white and black. Lace and applique collars and revers in white, black and cream.

MILLINERY.

We have made a hit with our New York hats. In style and quality they are far ahead of any line ever shown in this section. We have the "Knox" agency and also the agency for Phipps & Atchison renowned walking hats. These two concerns set the styles for this country and you will find that their shapes will always be good for two seasons. Our dressy hats range in price from $2 to $18. Be sure to ask to see the hats the first time you are in.

READY-TO-WEAR.

In this department we easily lead this part of Kentucky. We not only have the greatest variety but also have the best styles and sell them cheaper. We are now showing more than 40 styles in man-tailored suits ranging in price from $10 to $35. They are in Blouses, Etons, Box fronts and tight fitting. New Separate Skirts and Walking Skirts in great variety from $4 to $10. Petticoats in Silk and Mercerized Satteen from $1.25 to $12 each. Shirt Waists in Silk and French Flannels from $2.50 to $10.

FRENCH FLANNELS.

You are sure to want one and we would like for you to see our line before buying. We imported most of our designs direct from France and are showing designs which no one else can show you. We sell all patterns at 75c a yard.

FINE FURS.

We show the latest shapes in Boas, Scarfs and Collar-ettes in Martins, Minks, Seals, Sables, Foxes, &c., ranging in prices from $1.50 to $30.

MR. MARK D. HARDIN, of Monticello, is visiting his son, Mark, at the St. Asaph. Mr. Hardin is in his 100th year, but walks with as firm a step as a man a quarter of a century younger.

MR. M. C. WILLIAMS, wife and four sons are visiting relatives at Mt. Vernon. Mr. Williams' brother, J. H. Williams, of St. Louis, is also at that place and that family is enjoying a reunion.

INVITATIONS have been received to the marriage of Miss Virginia L. Caldwell to Mr. Homer L. Baughman, which will occur at the First Presbyterian church, Danville, Wednesday, Oct. 31 at 8 p. m.

JUDGE C. R. McDOWELL, of Danville, than whom there is no better democrat nor cleverer man, was with his brother-in-law, J. N. Saunders, this week. He took the train here for Middleboro, where he was a "horse" in boom days.

MR. W. E. PERKINS was down from Crab Orchard yesterday and said that matters political are in good shape in the East End. He knows only two democrats who are at all doubtful and they are inclined to return to the fold. Everybody is falling into line and a good report will come from the two precincts at the November election.

LOCALS.

FRESH Fish every Friday at Ed Hubbard's.

LOOK at the late improved ball bearing New Home Sewing Machine; it has no equal. On sale at A. B. Florence's.

DEATHS.—Mrs. McMullen, the aged mother of Milt McMullen, of Yosemite, and Mrs. Susan, wife of Green Bastin, of near Mt. Olive, died this week.

HURT.—John Sneed, colored, got one of his hands badly hurt at J. H. Baughman & Co's mill Wednesday. He struck the member against a piece of machinery.

THE C. W. B. M. women of Stanford will conduct a prayer and praise service at the Moreland Union church Sunday at 11 o'clock. All are earnestly invited to be present.

THE Waynesburg democratic club is growing nicely. President M. G. Reynolds tells us the membership now numbers 125 and new names are being added daily. Attorney W. J. Brown, of Somerset, will address it tonight.

OWING to the absence of so many members of the Reading Club there will be no meeting Saturday afternoon, but a meeting will be held Saturday week, 27th, with Misses Mary and Kate Beazley. Miss Fannie Shanks, president.

W. W. WITHERS begins this issue with a good-sized advertisement, which you should read and heed. "Wallace Withers" furniture store is the only up-to-date thing in Stanford; a jealous Danville lady was heard to remark the other day.

POB JAILER.—Squire James H. Ralnes announces in this issue his candidacy for jailer. He has made a most excellent magistrate, is a democrat in all the word implies and is a good citizen. With these qualifications he ought to make a strong race.

THE LAST.—Saturday, Oct. 27th, the Q & C. will run its last cheap excursion to Cincinnati. The rate from Junction City will be $2 the round-trip—tickets good returning on any train next day. You can leave Junction City on either of the morning trains of the 27th.

It is "Marshall" Robert T. Lee's now; the council having engaged him until Jan 1. He is a clever, sober man, has had experience in the business and will make a good successor to "Brother" Newland, who is badly downed by infirmities, but whose many friends hope and believe he will pull through.

PROHIBITION SPEAKING.—Mr. W. H. Zelgler, the prohibitionist, will speak on the street in front of the court house at 2:30 tomorrow, Saturday afternoon, and in the court-house that night. It is his intention to have a "warm" street meeting, when a number of the good women are expected to take part.

THE prohibitionists here seem to have lost all interest in their cause. Less than a dozen were out to hear Mr. W. H. Zelgler Tuesday night, although the court-house bell was rung three times. He talked in a sitting position to the few present, however, and looked not the least discouraged because of his lack of hearers.

SALES.—The Logan farm in Boyle, home of the late Dr. A. E. and Capt. R. D. Logan, was bought at public sale Wednesday by Messrs. Richard Cobb and A. E. Hundley at $58. There were 600 acres and the former gentleman got 350 and the latter 250 acres. Mr. Cobb, who bought "Castle Cobb" a month ago at $50.50, has transferred it to Joe H. McAllister, Jr., at the same figure.

A WASHINGTON dispatch says that the affairs of the Somerset bank are in such condition that they can not be settled up for a long time. What is the matter with the stockholders making a little investigation of their own and sending somebody to the penitentiary. If the facts justify it. We are told that an officer is $16,000 or more behind and the fact that another man is overdrawn $52,000 ought to make the directors explain or go up the road. Their carelessness, to call it no harsher name, amounts to criminality.

THE largest crowd in 10 years gathered at Jamestown Monday to hear Hons. R. C. Warren, Harvey Helm and George E. Stone speak and it was a grand day for democracy. Mr. Warren tells us that Mr. Stone and Mr. Helm made splendid efforts and that the latter was so highly appreciated that he was pressed into service at night. He says that Mr. Stone spoke for two hours, making, he thinks, the speech of his life. Mr. Warren did not tell us about his own "say," but if it was up to his average, it was all right. These gentlemen were preceded and followed by Herschel Baker and James R. Hladman, respectively, who yelled loud and long for McKinley, Yerkes & Co. On returning Tuesday afternoon Messrs. Warren and Helm filed Hon. John S. Rhea's appointment at Liberty, where a good crowd greeted them. Mr. Rhea was unable to fill his engagement there.

COAL hods, coal vases, shovels and heating stoves at Warren & Shanks'.

THE Stanford Foot Ball Team will play the Lancaster Eleven there this afternoon.

PRACTICALLY open all the time; pattern hats a specialty. Mrs. Kirby and Miss VanDeveer.

ONE Dr. G. W. Pruett is advertised to speak here tomorrow night. As the Louisville Dispatch advertises him we suppose he is a republican.

HURT.—Jim Wren, while helping to put in a manhead at the water works, fell from the boiler and was badly bruised about the face and back.

THE account book advertised for by Mr. C. C. Vanardale, of Harrodsburg, was found and left at the Deaf and Dumb Institute, Danville, Mr. Sam W. Menefee writes us.

DR L. B. COOK, who attended the Central Kentucky Medical Association at Danville yesterday, tells us that the meeting was a good one. Dr. Cook read a paper as did Drs J. G. Carpenter and Steele Bailey.

SOME scoundrel broke the glass of Miss Sacray's picture display Wednesday night and stole the pictures, including handsome ones of Mr. Jesse M. Alverson, of this office, his wife and Messdames E. T. and E. H. Beazley.

CUTTING.—Will Kenney was cut in the arm and leg by Cliff Rancey at the latter's home near Junction City Wednesday night. The cutting was the result of an old grudge. Both are farmers and have the reputation of being peaceable men.

THE Warren Grigsby Chapter is requested to meet with Mrs. J. W. Alcorn, Tuesday, Oct. 23, at 3 o'clock. It is important that every member be present as a delegate to the National convention at Montgomery, Ala., will be appointed at this meeting.

WHILE driving on the Danville road near Lancaster, Thos. Chestnut's horse became frightened and backed over a cliff to the river, a distance of 100 feet. The animal was instantly killed and the buggy smashed to kindling wood. The driver barely escaped.

DON'T forget to come and hear grand old Joe Blackburn. He will speak Monday night next and give you something to think about the rest of the campaign. No other speaker in Kentucky can warm up the boys like he can and none can make more votes for the democratic party.

CAMPAIGN literature can be obtained by the hundred pounds at this office. We went to the expense of getting supplements to send out, but Postmaster Florence construes the law differently from any other postmaster in the State and they are on our hands. Presidents of clubs should come in and get a supply without money and without price.

TWO of Lincoln's wealthiest citizens paid their subscriptions at this office yesterday and they had only two cents left between them. They were Messrs. A. W. Carpenter and John S. Murphy. The former didn't have a copper left, poor fellow, and the latter only two.

DEATH.—Mr. Joshua M. Brown died at his home near McKinney last night of general debility, aged about 75 years. His second wife and daughter, Mrs. Jessie, survive. No arrangements had been made for the funeral up to the time of the report by telephone. Mr. Brown was an excellent and substantial citizen, who had amassed a good share of this world's goods and made a reputation for honesty and integrity that will be a lasting monument to his memory.

HORRIBLE.—John Foley, a blacksmith of Hustonville, was knocked down and run over at Junction City by Northbound Freight No. 40 Wednesday morning. He was under the influence of whiskey when he started for the stable to get his horse and go home. The freight caught him as he was crossing the track, horribly mangle both legs below the knees. He was placed on a truck at the depot, and, catching his bloody knees, one in each hand, he yelled repeatedly at the top of his voice, "Hurrah for Bryan and Beckham." He was taken to Dr. Steele's office and two other physicians summoned. After amputating both legs below the knee he was removed to the Lexington Hospital with slight chances of recovery. A wife and four small children are dependent upon him.

UNDER the head of "Can't do it," the Danville Advocate says: "Bro. Walton, who some time ago reduced the price of the INTERIOR JOURNAL to $1 a year, now announces that the price will be $2 unless paid in advance. Bro. Walton, like any other good newspaper man, knows that in these times a good county paper can not be published at $1 and the editor wait 12 months for his money." Sure, and not for $100 a year if subscribers are permitted to pay or not as they elect. We are perfectly willing to send the paper at $1 a year in advance and can do so as a profit, but the richest man could not hold out always and send it on credit with the chances of many never paying. Our edition is right at 3,000 now and it takes a good deal of white paper and at a high price to print it. The Advocate should know though that the $2 arrangement was specified when the reduction was made in the price. See 4th page for notice that has been there ever since the change. We have stuck and will continue to do so to these terms—$1 in advance, $2 if credited even to parties known to be responsible. Put up and get the advantage of the lowest price for any paper of its size in the State.
